MISSOURI VALLEY FOOTBALL IS ON

Nebraska and Illinois Universities Clash at Urbana in First Big Game.

(By Review Leased Wire.)
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 6.—With the games tomorrow, all of the football teams of the Missouri Valley conference will have opened their 1916 season and the chase for the valley title, now held by Nebraska, again will be fully under way. All conference eleven will play tomorrow, excepting the Kansas Aggies, who met Southwestern at Manhattan today. Nebraska, Missouri and Washington will open their schedules with games on their home grounds, the Cornhuskers playing Drake between the two first conference games, the Tigers contesting with Central College of Fayette and the St. Louis squad meeting Rose Polytechnic. Ames will play Highland Park at Ames.

Kansas will go to Urbana tomorrow to play Illinois in one of the few contests between members of the big nine and the valley conference.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN FOOTBALL LATE STARTING

(By Review Leased Wire.)
DENVER, Oct. 6.—Only one Rocky Mountain intercollegiate conference football game is scheduled to be played tomorrow, the University of Colorado and the University of Wyoming at Laramie. Interest has been taken in an intersectional contest at Colorado Springs, where the University of New Mexico and Colorado meet for the first time. Tomorrow's game will be the opening contest of the season for the University of Colorado and the strength which the new coaches of the eleven have been able to inject into the team is expected to make their first game a stiff combat.

NEW YORK VICE EXPOSURES BASIS OF BIG FEATURE PICTURE, "LITTLE GIRL NEXT DOOR"

SCENE FROM "THE LITTLE GIRL NEXT DOOR"

Recent exposures made during prosecutions by the district attorney of New York City of inconceivable conditions with respect to the traffic in girls lend a peculiar timeliness to "The Little Girl Next Door", the feature photoplay billed for the Orpheum Theatre today and Sunday. This play is a series of chapters, assembled in dramatic form from the revelations in the report of the Illinois legislative commission appointed to probe the alliance of vice and politics in Chicago.

The New York exposures confirm everything seen in this startling photoplay and even carry its revelation to a further point. They show that the fearful traffic ramifies to all parts of the country, poisoning the veins of the body politic, running into every city and the smallest villages.
Political influence in Chicago tried very hard to suppress "The Little Girl Next Door". It was only after a hard fight on the part of social reform leaders and the mayor of the city that the play was permitted to go on. The fact that it is now in its 15th week at the La Salle Theatre there and that it subsequently has had a long run in Los Angeles, proves its exceptional value as a play and searchlight into conditions that must become known to the public. Crowds have been held spellbound by its graphic showing up of an amazing traffic that has its fearful maw open for every young girl that it can lure by its Satanic devices.

So greatly were leading men and women of Illinois convinced of its public value that many of them assisted personally in the filming of the story. In the course of its unfolding appear members of congress, of the Illinois legislature, of the investigating body from whose report it was built up, the mayor and chief of police of Chicago, and many distinguished social welfare workers of that city.

At a private showing of "The Little Girl Next Door" in Los Angeles, this play, sensational as it necessarily is, was praised not only for its interest but for its great potential and public value by ministers, educators, city mothers and others who were invited to the show.

LONE CANADIAN WOUNDED, CAPTURED SIXTY TWO GERMANS

At Least Canada Hears So—Story Makes Great Hero of Flucky Private, who Daunts Whole German Army.

(By Review Leased Wire)
OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—The exploit of a wounded Canadian private who leaped from his trench, killed and wounded many Germans and compelled 62 others to surrender, is described in a dispatch received here today from Canadian headquarters in France. The communication states that the bravery of the unnamed private made it possible for his battalion to capture 500 yards of trenches at a critical moment in the general attack. Since their offensive began, the Canadians have wrested nearly 30 square miles of territory from the Germans.

In consequence of the repulse of patrols, the communication continued, the Canadian lines were advanced to positions nearly 1,000 yards farther or forward. Fierce attacks and counter attacks ensued from the German trenches and the Canadians came off victors.

Describing the action of the wounded private, the dispatch said: "The most aggressive gallantry was displayed by a private belonging to the Edmonton battalion. He was taking part in a bombing attack when the advance was arrested and the supply of bombs exhausted. Although one of his fingers had been blown away at the second joint by a German bomb, he jumped out of the trench and ran along the outside, firing at point blank range at the enemy, killing and wounding many of them. The remainder, 62 in number, thinking themselves about to be cut off, thereupon surrendered. He took the men and escorted them across the open ground under heavy fire to a support trench, and then returned and reported himself for duty to his commander, before his wound had been dressed. This action undoubtedly made it possible for the battalion to capture and hold 250 yards of trenches at a critical moment."

EASTERN HEIRESS HAS GREAT EXPERIENCE IN RECENT FOX PICTURE

Story of "The Beast" Takes Eastern Girl Into the West Where She Gets Acquainted with Rough Characters.

The adventures of an Eastern heiress among the rough herdsmen of the West form the basis of the story of the new William Fox photoplay, "The Beast," to play today and Sunday at the Royal, in which Anna Luther is the innocent little Eastern girl, Mildred Manning, who, on a tour through the West with her father, falls in with Del Burton (George Walsh) and is taken prisoner by him. After he fights a duel with two other men. He takes her to his cabin, and nurses her back to strength after she has succumbed to the excitement of the adventure.

When she is well and strong once more, he sends her to her father, and the tour is continued. Some time later, Burton pays a visit to the East. He is wealthy now, and society lionizes him. He meets Mildred, but she does not recognize him in the costume of city life.

The awakening comes when he appears at a masquerade ball in his Western clothes. Then she realizes who he is, and the old feeling of love returns to her heart.

PRESIDENT WILSON SNAPPED AS HE DEFENDS HIS POLICIES

This photograph, taken a few days ago while President Wilson was delivering an address, shows the Democratic standard-bearer in characteristic pose. While the president has announced his determination to address only non-partisan gatherings, he does not hesitate to defend his course and to praise the Democratic congress for the laws it has put on the statute books. At Baltimore he declared that the new tariff commission, the trade commission, the federal reserve act, the shipping act and similar measures were opening up a new era for American business.
